What do college students struggle with? Hope for? Wonder about? Find joy in?

Knowing someone else has faced these same tough questions can be empowering, comforting and encouraging.

Written by and for college students, this book of prayers focuses on contemporary issues. From various Christian backgrounds, cultures, and campuses, they share experiences, prayers, and reflections that help them cope with life's difficulties, rejoice in God's grace, and make the best decisions when faced with demanding choices.

These real-life experiences-and the prayers rising out of them-will support and guide young adults as they step out on their own, pursue and answer their heart's calling, and establish their growing independence--all with God's help.

Prayers are organized by the events that define the life of a college student...

- Starting a new term, making new friends, and cultivating relationships
- Dealing with classroom pressures and exam week
- Encountering new views and new ways of addressing common questions
- Maintaining a relationship with God
- Juggling commitments
- Preparing to graduate and beginning a career path
